How to use this document

Naming Things

- Edit the Head/Foot shared layer to set the title document title at the top of the page.
- Rename the canvases to set the page titles

Using Layer Master

- The Layer Master is non-printing canvas that simply holds the shared layers used by all of the canvas types in the document. This ensures that you don't lose any of your shared layers should you delete it from a canvas.
- Drag shared layers over your working canvas to use as a page master (e.g. wireframe or storyboard)

Presentation

 This document was created with dimensions of 22" by 34" so that you may work at 100% and project your schematics at 100% in landscape mode.

Exporting and Printing

- Select menu: File > Export
- From the export dialog:
 Select Format: PDF Vector Image
 Select Export Area: Entire Document
- Print the PDF, being sure that your Printer Handling options are set to "Scale to fit paper size."

(when a case consolidates several different actions) «e.g.»

Abbreviate the listed words wherever they appear in a party's name that is part of a citation. In addition, appreviate any state that is included in party name. (See § 4-500.) When the case is being referred to in a sentence of the text itself rather than simply as a citation only the words starred [*] in the table below should be abbreviated, and then only when not at the beginning of a party's name.

Any other word of eight letters or more not on the following list may also be abbreviated if the abbreviation chosen saves substantial space and reasonably connotes the original word. As a consequence of this Bluebook principle case names prepared according to the ALWD Citation Manual's far more extensive list of "General Abbreviations" will, for the most part, comply, as well, with The Bluebook. There are a few minor points of divergence, however, and one systematic difference, on which the ALWD Citation Manual has recently softened its stance. For a number of words, but following no consistent pattern, The Bluebook uses contractions (e.g., Eng'r and Int'l, though curiously Envtl.). Prior to the fourth edition, the ALWD Citation Manual abbreviations used no apostrophes; all ended with periods (e.g., Engr. and Intl.). The fourth edition authorizes use of contractions as an alternative (e.g., Engr. or Eng'r, Intl. or Int'l).

Except when the abbreviation list explicitly provides for the plural, the plural of a listed word is abbreviated by adding an "s" to the abbreviation of the singular.

Thus: Eng'r - Eng'rs | Enter. - Enters. | Mfr. - Mfrs.
